It. we could not stand another war. The mere conception of it is terrifying. I ought to know something about war. In the last war I was a minister charged with responsible duties from the day we went in until we ceased. If you compare the weapons and the whole paraphernalia of war when the armistice came with what Required, No whole paraphernalia of war when the armistice came with the second it was at the beginning you can realize the extraordinary intensification that was going on ruthlessly and without ceasing.

SCIENTIFIC SAVAGERY

The man at war becomes a savage. The only difference between wars of the past and those of the present is that they are now scientific savagery. War calls science. And there is no known limit to what science can accomplish.

I want to see science dedicated to the cause of peaceful progress, because I am quite sure that if there is another war Europe will become a black ruin. It will be a generation before Europe is rebuilt following the last war. After another war twould not recover within a century, and what it would be like meanwhile no man can conjecture. Those who talk of the possibility of "humanising" war deceive themselves. You cannot humanize war. It is true that men do not now mutilate the wounded on the field of battle. But war gives men horrible wounds. It makes men die horrible deaths. And the makers of war devise all the horrors they can invent. Those deadly instruments of pain, the fiame throwers, were abandoned not because of the world in the field of disarmative treaty.

But above all we must set a cleen of the world in the field of disarmative treaty.

It is vital to remember that disarmament was an essential part of the policy that went with the League project. German disarmament was to be followed by disarmament among all the Allies. There is no doubt at all that the Allies have completely broken faith.

As soon as we came back from Paris we did our part. We abolished conscription, and then, at the Washington naval conference, we carried through the one real practical measure of disarmament accomplished since the war. The two men chiefly responsible for that conspicuous success were Charles E. Hughes, on the American side, and on our side Lord Balfour, who mentally and morally has all the equipment of a true statesman.

Since then, nothing has been done.

National Shields on Ceiling of New York Postoffice Raise Delicate Situation

NEW YORK, April 14. (P)—To four European nations it should be interesting news that the ceiling in the main hall of the New York postoffice is to be redecorated.

When the ceiling was created sixteen years ago, the national emblems of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, Germany, Russia, Austro-Hungary, Spain, Belgium and The Netherlands were inserted in it in a long row.

Four years later the United States entered the World War, and partico-Hungarian shields to be veiled. They were covered with painted canwas, and they remain hidden to this day.

When the unshrouding of the emblems was in order in 1920, Germany had become a republic and austro-Hungary was two independent nations, so that the old monarchie shields were out of date. For that reason, and not because of any surviving animus toward former foes, the shields were not uncovered.

Meanwhile the imperial Russian the main hall of the New York to the new York with so impressed Kendall as applicable to the postment has he caused it to be inscribed across the portico.

HAVANA, April 14. (P—Havana is having its night club growing pains. Legislators view the increase in number of cabarets in various lights—as a menace to minors, as an attraction for tourist dollars, as breeders of vice.

Most recent of municipal and Federal government attempts to classify cabarets and close certain types was Mayor Miguel Mariano Gomes's wholesale padiocking of so-called "dancing academies" in the Chinatown district. His secret service men told him—what every casual tourist knows—that the cabarets with a 20-cent entrance fee, no couvert charge, and unbounded dancing opportunities, are nightly crowded with minors. N ADVANCE in motor design-you hear of it everywhere. High-compression, higher powered motors; yet more economical, smoother running. Nearly all the cars built this last year or two are higher compression, among the newest and most notable the Chevrolet six, the announcement of which was repeated by millions of lips.

This modern trend in motors caught many oil refiners unaware! Their fine lubricants had a fault-serious enough when engines were big and roomy inside, but a positive menace in the new-type motors. This fault is the tendency of their oils to form flinty layers of hard carbon. And there is no room for carbon deposits in the new high-compression motors.

Hard carbon causes knocking, engine strain, power loss. Flakes chip off and grind like grit through tight pistons and bear ings, wearing them away more rapidly. Particles get under valves, holding them open to warp and burn.

Yet one motor oil meets new conditions squarely. It forms only 1/3 to 1/5 as much carbon as even the most expensive oils you can buy! The little it does form is soft and soot-like-a kind that blows harmlessly away through the exhaust.

It is Shell Motor Oil. Refined by a new high-vacuum process, this remarkable lubricant has other advantages, too. It with stands violent temperature changes without breaking down; keeps its sturdy body long after ordinary oils would disintegrate.

And new day motorists everywhere are acclaiming Shell Motor Oil as the answer to the high-compression lubrication problem-keep away from hard carbon!

* Naturally, motor car manufacturers do not specify brands of oil. None is factory recommended for the new Chevrolet. But every modern car should have an oil that forms no hard carbon. Ask any lubrication expert.

American film controversy took a somewhat brighter turn yesterday when Henry C. MacLean, commercial attache of the American Embassy, had a long talk with Francois Poncet, Undersecretary of State for fine arts, in whose hands the issue has been placed by the French government.

The difficulties resulted from a demand by the French industry for a three-to-one quota for foreign motion pictures in place of the present seven-to-one basis. Such a schemo; it was contended by American producers, would curtail American participation in the French market to such an extent that further operation there would be unprofitable.

At the close of the conversation, which took place in the ministry of fine arts, M. Poncet informed Mr. MacLean that he would immediately call a conference of a limited number of representatives from both the French and American and final effort will be made to reagh an amicable solution.

DATES ANNOUNCED

If you have read my preceding six articles hand have followed for all proceeding six articles and have followed for a followed for any trips in Southern California to the various meets, on my travels across the continent to a Atlantic City, on my tour of Europe where I visited six countries, and finally on my return voyage to my home in Amusa, you will have gained a better idea of how much the Junior Olympics have made possible for me, because I had never traveled to any extent before last spring. In fact, the only traveling I had done at all consisted to a few trips to Los Angeles and to some of the other towns surrounding Amusa, where I was born and where I have lived all my life. Then, to suddenly have the chance to travel across the country, and maybe to Europe, present itself and to win that chance—it was almost too good to be true. Even now, it seems as though it had all been a pleasant dream.

But it was true. I traveled in the best of style, and all my meeds were looked after carefully, everything possible being done to make me happy and contented. And this year, two lucky fellows from somewhere in the United States will win, and will discover what marvelous hosts these who are sponsoring the Games can be Only they will have the pleasure of a trip to the magic isles of the Facific instead of to Europe. I shall watch the proceedings this year with a great deal of interest for I am exceedingly anxieus to discover who the winners are to be.

tion so necessary if distance is to be attained.

According to Director M. C. Sparrow of Eche Park Playground the officers made a great hit with the boys and in addition the lads received some valuable pointers. Sparrow has invited the policemen to come back again and lend their assistance in coaching the youngsters for the Junior Olympics. Entries for the program do not close until next Saturday. Time has been extended one week in order to give all straglers a final chance to enroll.

Four Southern California boys will receive a free trip to the Hawaiian Irlands as a reward for their showing in the finals to be held June 1. The four youngsters with the best records, two juniors and two seniors, will have all expenses paid for the round trip. leas to discover who the winners are to be.

The chance to travel was only one of the things I gained from participation in the Junior Olympics. Travel gave me a great deal of pleasure, of course, but what is more important, it gave me a good education in itself. One of my teachers at the Arusa intermediate school has said, "If you would broaden your mind, travel." This is certainly true. Knowledge gained from books and knowledge gained from seeing it are two different things, and I found that there is in a way to learn about cities and countries like seeing them. Some day I hope that I may have the opportunity of traveling to many other countries, for after all, I have FOR OPEN TENNIS athletically inclined, I certainly would never have developed my physique to the point that it now is had I not entered the Games hat year. The rigid training to which I subjected myself has put me in the best of health. This benefit can be gained by every contestant whether he wins er loses.

The last thing I might mention which the Junior Olympics have given me is something to which every normal person aspires—honor. Yet the fact that I am national champion and am looked up to by my fellow-schoolmates gives me no reason to boast. I did not create myself. I had no choice in the matter of saying whether I should be born white, black, yellow or brown; with a good physique or poor; with athletic ability or without. It just happened that I was born with fair possibilities along athletic lines, and for this I can thank only my parents and God. Therefore the only credit that I can take toward winning my victory is that I trained hard and faithfully and thereby developed my possibilities to the utmost. Boasting is something which I have tried to avoid. I believe that a winner should, above all other things, be a good sport—and a good sport doesn't brag about his good luck. He tries to take it gracefully.

I wish to take this opportunity to me to win the meets.

My closing wish is that my successor shall be a worthy Southern California boy and who shall equal.

A singular thing about this well is that three bleeks south of it the Standard Oil Company several years age drilled its old Brownrigg-Reller as a south-eastern outpost; guing past 7200 feet and abandoning it as a worthless hole after hitting hot water of about 180 deg. Fahrenheit. Operators are now inclined to think that this hole might be successfully carried on down to the Clarke sone.

The Rohde No. 2 started finding sand and shale at 7302 feet. Altogether it cored 104 feet of oil formation. The gas pressure on the tubing yesterday was 1140 pounds, the oil only showed a 3 per cent cut, and the gravity test was 32 deg. Arrangementa were made yesterday, with the Rio Grande oil Company to take the production, and Rio Grande started hauling oil from the sump hole in tank tracks, at the same time starting to put up steel tanks. It is expected that by Wednesday the available storage will justify opening up the well for at least a tenday flow to determine its potential capacity.

It was reported last night that several leases in the vicinity of

One of the Miley wells is to be drilled on the Oak Grove lease, Scc. 11, 3-24, and is to be spudded in by May 21. The other test will be on the Hoffman lease, a few hundred yards from the location where the Shell Oil Company drilled its old Hoffman wildcat well and abandened it after getting what is said to have been about fifty barrels of production per day.

Southeastern Outpost at Santa Fe Springs Heavy Producer From Deep Clarke Zone

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

The Santa Fe Springs oil field, which has been full of surprises for years, turned up another surprise yesterday when the McAdams & Rohde increases brought in their Rohde No. 2 well, as the first producer from the deep Clarke sand, at 7467 feet, after having cemented it off only once. The well came in easily and began flowing at a rate estimated at from 3000 to 5000 barrels a day, but was beaned down to seventy barrels an hour because storage was not available.

This well is on Lot 13 in the Sunshine Farms subdivision, at Stella and Laurel streets. It is the farthest southeast producer in the field, and until a few days ago was considered by many as at least a semiwildeat. While several other wells are drilling around it, no deep producer has been brought in there, other than it. The Union Oil Company's old No. 4, a Meyer zone producer, stands just across the street north of it, but never went beyond the Meyer, and is said to have been considered an edge well in that mend. A short distance south of the new producer the Flymouth Oil Company of Los Angeles, has redved word from W. A. Heidrich superintendent of its German Bar mine in Nevada county, confirming recent news received to the effect has a change in formation oc-

Work in No. 2 tunnel has been ordered discontinued until the new discovery can be examined by Thomas E. Stephens, company engineer, who is leaving for the mine. In commenting upon the German Bar mine and its surroundings, Mr. Stephens states that with the passing of the years the Sixteen-to-One mine, across the river from the German Bar, has proved to be one of the best gold producers in the United States, and that chambers of rich ore in this property have been found on the different levels down to 1800 feet.

Other neighbors of the German Bar, he says, which have produced fortunes, include such properties as the Plumbago, Gold Canyon, Oriental, Tightner, Irelan and Independence, in all of which zones of en-

WHAT factors have caused the re-markable success of the Western Pacific Building? Why has its increase in occupancy been far above the average? Simply this: It offers most efficient office facilities or minimum rental.

First, each office is flooded with light and air.

This, because the building is in "H" shape, giving outside exposure to all offices. Too, no tall buildings adjoin to cut off light.

Third, rentals are more moderate. Simple dignity, f design, in place of superfluous ornamentation has nade savings possible which are passed on to you.

returned to the carriers for another practice.

Thursday afternoon the fleet was shown another phase of the efficiency of the new Martin three-purpose bombing-scouting-torpedo planes, which had launched the aerial torpedo attack the day before. As a screen for a torpedo attack by the destroyer squadrons,
they laid a chemical amoke acreen of white completely across the northern horizon in front of the battleship column. Then, as this was assuming proportions of a huse fog bank, they laid another on either flank. Again there was an attack on the dreadnaughts by the fog bank, they laid another on either flank. Again there was an attack on the dreadnaughts by the "strafing" squadrons and while the crews were busy repelling the destroyer attack, battleships dodging this way and that, in came the torpedo planes from behind their own screen with more torpedoes.

That night, as the darkened dreadnaught column was sourrying along under a cloud-shot, windy sky, with a fading crescent of moon on the horizon. Admiral Senn again sent his destroyers in to attack. Without the hindrane: of a protecting screen, they got within torpedo range before discovery, the night being cut by the intermittent flash of broadside subcalibers as batteries found their shadowy, scurrying targuts. The exercise completed, lights went on throughout the fleet, a huge armada magically springing into behre across miles of sea seemingly empty a minute before; the white flash of searchlights and winking signals from yard-arm "blinkers" throughout the fleet as from the flagship flashed the mesage that ends all mimic wars, "cease present exercise."

Some into one man's pockets, it must take $100 from other men's pockets. Governmental expenditure consists in giving to some of us what it has taken from the rest of us. A government subsidy is simply collecting by direct taxation money from the many and giving it to the few. This is equally true of all forms of government in all places, a condition that cannot be modified by law.

Multitudinous and sincere are the proposals for farm relief that have been considered by special committees of the Senate and the House in preparing their recommendations for the special session. Nearly every one of them provides that the government shall collect hundreds of millions, or boldions, or dollars through taxation or bond issues from the country at large and lend it or pay it to the few. This is equally true of all forms of government is all places, a condition that cannot be modified by law.

Scientific production, lessened transportation costs and co-operative marketing offer the most reasonable means for relief of the present distressing agricultural situation. It is generally conceded that industry has made more progress and more profit since the World War than agriculture. Industrial workers have fared better than those who cultivate the acres. The trend is who cultivate the acres. The trend is away from agriculture and to industry,

Whole Family

Last year G. Mitani, manager of a Japanese company dealing in goldfish and other aquatic pets, grew sad over the fact that Los Angeles has no large public aquarium, as San-Francisco has. So he sent to each junior high school a goldfish bowl containing eggs, with instructions for the care of the eggs and the ensuing fish. That aroused such interest that the fish exposition resulted. It opened yesterday, in a building at No. 125 South Main street, and will continue three days. Nothing is for over the fact that Los Angeles has No. 125 South Main street, and will continue three days. Nothing is for sale, and the exposition is designed to be purely educational. Fish of many different kinds, ranging from the newborn to the horn-goggled veteran, are shown, and the villalnies of various fish enemies are exposed.

So far as we can learn, such an exposition is unprecedented. But Los Angeles is the logical place for its inauguration. Southern California is becoming famous for water gardens, and some sort of fish pool is worked into the landscaping of nearly every fine new home built now. Goldfish worth as much as $100 each are in some of these pools, and the goldfish industry employs hundreds of people here. There are several important commercial hatcheries in and near Los Angeles, and importations of rare species are continual. It has been found injurious to goldfish to import them from the Orient by ship and immediately transfer them to train here for shipment east, so now most imported fish designed for the eastern market are kept here till they

Dollar Line Skipper Reports on Forecasts at Sea

Reception Check Indicates Approaching Storms

Sir William Reardon-Smith Visitor in Southland

BY WAYNE B. CAVE Although scientists long have rec-ognized the value of radio as a itudes, the first mariner's application of it in forecasting storms was by Capt. J. J. Cadogan, who brought the Dollar liner President Hayes in yesterday, bound around the world.

Hayes in yesterday, bound around the world.

Cadogan constitutes a sort of one-man radio expedition around the globe, checking up reception under all conditions in many countries and seas, both tropical and cold. He kept a log on 200 stations. Eight hundred miles off New York he couldn't pick up any broadcast station, denoting a dead apot or atmospheric barrier between ship and shore. Experience led him to believe it indicated a disturbance or area of low pressure, meaning a storm, although the barometer at that time had not reacted. His surmise was verified, as the next day he ran into a moderate gale. mise was verified, as the next day he ran into a moderate gale.

Cadogan stressed the value of radio, not only as a medium of entertainment, but for scientific purposes of navigation as well, and he predicted the time as being near when radio will play a prominent part in weather forecasts at sea.

The liner disembarked a score of travelers, 1400 tons of freight, and will embark thirty travelers and load cargo and sail for San Francisco and west at noon today.

One, a window of the store's luggage department fronting on Hill street, gives the salings from Los Angeles Harbor in June. The entire background supplies names of vessels, dates of departure, destinations and pier numbers. Another, a sports-wear window on Seventh street, congratulates the Western Air Express on the completion of three years of successful air-mail operation eastward. It portrays graphically in the background the speed with which the air mail transports communications to the East. The third window, also on Seventh street, contains a remarkable model of the steamship City of Honolulu, accompanied by a map of the route that vessel follows.
